

Marlow Regatta

This was the last regatta before Henley Royal Regatta. The time trials were crucial to get a good place in the final. The major result from this regatta was the prequalification for the first eight.

18th June

Results

- Time Trials: Both the Sen8+ and the IM3 8+ came 12 in their respective time trials. Therefore both made it to final B.
- Sen8+ Final With an extremely close race the boys finished fifth. They had a fierce battle with Royal Chester
- IM3 8+ (university) The boys lost their final but there was a fantastic effort from the boat with a majority being novices.

Prequalification for the first eight

Having been training on the Eton Dorney stretch for a few days the boys were feeling ready for some good racing. In the last milestone regatta before Henley Royal, there were good performances all round. Everyone was aware how important the time trials were, due to the nature of the regatta, so everyone put their best foot forward to get some great results.

The second eight had a good race after hitting a few bumps in the last bit of training in Exeter. The boat moved around a lot with its members being away, but when they were finally back together, all effort was put in to make it run as best as possible. It was fantastic to see so many of the novice boys in the second eight.

The first eight had a really good race, with massive improvements since the Metropolitan regatta. As a result of this race, and the performance from these boys throughout the season, they were able to prequalify for Henley Royal Regatta.

Thank you to all those friends and family that came to support.

The first eight race at 9:40am on Wednesday. There is a picnic at the Henley cricket club at 12 noon for members of EUBC past and present.
